

Aboriginal culture

Cody

Transport

They found lots of big horses 🐎 to ride on. Aboriginal people had to do lots of walking to place to place. The eight mile plane was one of Brisbane's suburbs first two be settled. The indigenous groups would often travel in canoes and made it out of lots of brown bark and leaves.

Clothes

They made suits out of leaves and branches which helps them not get wet even a little bit. Men would often wear a riji and the girls would wear short skirts. Aboriginal people barely wore clothes they usually body painted.

Art

The Aboriginal people painted on rocks and made it cool stories. The Aboriginal people like to do dot painting. Aboriginal people liked to paint on rocks. They liked to paint on didgeridoos. They liked to paint sticks and make patterns on the sticks. Aboriginal art is one-off the oldest surviving art forms still practiced today.

Shelter

Most of Australia has a very hot climate people often slept out in the open. To keep themselves very warm at night they would sleep very close to fires. Aboriginal housing mostly consists of the simple shelters from branches and then covered with leaves and sheets of bark. In the wet and cold conditions Aboriginal people would close dome-shaped shelters were made. Sometimes Aboriginal people made shelters out of rock.

FOOD

When Aboriginal people were pretty  hungry they will find a tree and put their hands in it and eat a little grub and pick all types of berries. Aboriginal Australians have eaten native animals and plants for food. The Aboriginal people had a very healthy diet because they knew how to find foods that were full of vitamins and minerals. The women were the main food gatherers and they would go out and search for seeds, vegetables, fruits and witchetty grubs. The Aboriginal people threw boomerangs  at kangaroos for their food.

Music

They played major roles in traditional Aboriginal societies and is linked with a person's ancestry and country (the animals, plants and physical features of the landscape). It is traditionally connected with important events such as the bringing of the rain, healing, wounded enemies and the winnings of battles. A didgeridoo is a type of instrument . The Australian aboriginals have had no written language and rely.

