

Ashleigh Barty is very familiar First Nation female tennis player. Ashleigh was born on April 24th 1996 in Ipswich Queensland. She is most know for her tennis playing and her three most iconic tennis competitions and for her ver well known tennis career.

Ash Barty began her tennis career when she was just four years old and started doing her tennis competitions at five to six years old. Ashleigh enjoyed tennis so much that she continued tennis until she was twenty five and was the number one Australian female tennis player, Ashleigh's parents always helped her achieve her goals in tennis.

Ashleigh Barty grew up with four other family members, Ali, Sarah, Josie and Robert. Ashleigh's family lives in Ipswich Queensland, but then moved houses to Brookwater Queensland in 2018 to live alone.

As a child to teenager Ashleigh Barty attended Woodrest State College and always enjoyed the school she went to.

When Ash Barty was younger she had many different interests, tennis, fishing, reading and playing computer games. But out of all of those interests Ashleigh chose to play tennis because she found tennis very fun and enjoyable, because she had been playing it since she was four and really wanted to grow up to live as a professional tennis player.

Ashleigh is most famous for her three most iconic tennis competitions. First is winning the French Open in 2019. Secondly for three iconic grand slam singles at the Wimbledon tennis competition, the Australian open and her Grand Slam doubles. These moments showed how much she loved tennis.

Ashleigh Barty is still known as the number one female tennis player today even though she retired at age 25 on March 23rd twenty twenty-two. She will be remembered for her life achievements, The French Open, The Wimbledon tennis competition and the Australian open for coming first place for all of them.

By Leila