

Aboriginal culture by Tahlia

Food

Aboriginal people ate fish, kangaroo, turtles and berries

They went fishing for the turtles and fish. And picked berries.

And they killed kangaroos and other things with their spears. To eat they used a stick for a spoon or fork.

Transport

For transport they ran, swim and walked to find things like a place to sleep and to eat breakfast, lunch and dinner. Also to go place to place.

Shelters

Aboriginal people leaves, bark, dirt and rocks to build a

Shelter. according to Paul Manny of the huts and shelters aboriginal people built were dome structures.

Music

In music Aboriginal people used Didgeridoos sometimes a stick And they used a pice of bark to make a drum.

Art

For art Aboriginal people always used lots of dots in painting. They used a rock to paint it on.

For paint they used leaves, dirt and rocks.

Clothes

For clothes Aboriginal people used leaves, strings, animal skin, snake skin and bark. Also men's would wear riji to tie bark and over things to it.

